You have exhausted endless time and expense to prepare for the event of going 'Off to College'. You have chosen the school, selected your courses, planned your last minute details, but...are you ready to make the adjustment to campus life, to survive and thrive? This workshop will teach you to make the right choices, develop awareness and be safe? Based on the techniques of Traditional Aikido that teach redirection and control, participants will learn to avoid becoming the victim. Course will include campus safety handouts and is open to anyone that has the desire to improve their personal safety knowledge and skills! Register Now!!!
